Part II Reading Comprehension

Passage 1

Confidence is very important in daily life. It can help you to develop a healthy attitude (态度). A study shows that the people who are more confident are much happier. They can have more chances to make themselves successful. But how to be more confident? Here are some suggestions.

Speak loud. When you are not confident, you can't do well what you want to do. You speak in a voice so low that other people can hardly hear you. Try to speak loud enough so that people can hear you clearly. The high voice can help you become more confident.

Play sports. Physical exercise makes you completely relaxed. A strong body helps you be full of confidence.

Encourage yourself. Write down a list of things you did during the day to see how many things you have done well. Did you finish your homework? Did you tell a joke that made everybody laugh? Give yourself praise for the good things you've done.

Get rid of fear. Fear comes along with failure. But it's easy to overcome (克服) if you know that failure is part of your life. Don't hide your head just because you said something stupid last time. Try to start again and believe you can do better.

Pick up a hobby. If you like singing, sing as much as you can. In some ways, a hobby can make you outstanding. And it will make you happy and confident.

16．What can people have if they are confident?

They can have more chances to become _____.

17．How many pieces of advice can you get to be more confident from the passage?

Passage 2

No one knows exactly when jazz (爵士乐) was invented, or by whom. But it is said that it began in the early 1900s. Jazz was a kind of music and New Orleans was its birthplace.

Jazz was not written down, and at first only blacks played it. It was hard for white musicians to learn the new style. But soon they could play it well, too.

From New Orleans, it traveled to Chicago, then to New York. By the 1920s, there were many jazz musicians, both black and white. Many of them were famous. Among them, the most famous one was Louis Armstrong.

Louis Armstrong was not only talented but also hard-working. He also had a good sense of humor. After he became famous, he traveled around the world. It seemed that everyone wanted to hear Louis' jazz. But life for him was not always easy, especially at the beginning.

Louis Armstrong was born in 1901 in New Orleans. His father never went to school and his mother could hardly read. When Louis was still a kid, his parents separated (分开), and Louis lived with his mother. Their hard life can hardly be imagined. But Louis smiled through everything. He later wrote, "My whole life has been filled with happiness. Life was there for me and I accepted it. No matter what happened in my life, it has been beautiful to me."

21．Where was jazz from?

It was from _____.

22．What does the underlined word "it" in Paragraph 2 refer to?

It refers to "_____".

23．Who was the most famous jazz musician by the 1920s?

_____ was the most famous one by the 1920s.

24．When was Louis Armstrong born?

He was born _____.

25．How was Louis Armstrong's life after his parents separated?

It was _____.

Passage 3

You may have seen such a photo: with a long white beard (胡子) and wearing a bamboo hat, an old fisherman stands on a boat. Huang Quande looked like this when tourists took photos with him on the Lijiang River in Guilin, Guangxi. He became so famous online that many believed the fisherman on the back of the 20-yuan renminbi banknote (纸币) was based on him. Sadly, Huang passed away at the age of 94 on Feb 18, 2023.

Huang gave up fishing and became a photo model in 2008. He showed the true spirit of Lijiang River—being positive (积极的) and friendly. In his 90s, Huang could still move his boat with speed.

The image of the fisherman on the back of the 20-yuan banknote is not just about one man. Instead, it is a cultural symbol of Guilin landscape (风景), commented Guangming Daily.

In fact, the different backsides of the fifth series of renminbi banknotes show the most iconic (标志性的) landscapes in China. Each of them carries its own cultural value. For example, on the back of the5-yuan banknote is Mount Tai in Shandong. In ancient times, many emperors would go there and pray (祈祷) for the country. On the back of the 1-yuan banknote are the Three Pools Mirroring the Moon (三潭映月) in West Lake, Zhejiang. It is a great place for moon watchers during Mid-Autumn Festival.

Because of the renminbi pictures, these places have attracted more tourists than before. Following the banknotes from 1 yuan to 100, Pan Jinyu from Chongqing had a "banknote tour" when he was 21. "I want to finish a ceremonial (有仪式感的) journey and feel the beauty of our country," Pan told Chongqing Economic Times.

26．When did Huang Quande become a photo model?

27．What does the image of the fisherman stand for, according to Guangming Daily?

28．On which banknote is the picture of Mount Tai in Shandong?

29．What do the pictures on the banknotes bring to these places?

30．What do you think of these renminbi pictures?

Passage 4

Over past five years, Miao Zhenjie has been teaching the skills of porcelain carving (刻瓷). Her students are children with hearing problems at a special school in Taiyuan, Shanxi Province.

Miao began learning to carve porcelain in 1997. One day, she saw a folk artist carving a cute dog on a white porcelain plate. She was amazed. Then she decided to learn the skills.

The art of porcelain carving has a long history and was popular during the Qing Dynasty. Different pictures and patterns, including humans, flowers, birds and buildings, can be created on the surface of porcelain with special tools.

According to Miao, different from many traditional forms of art, porcelain carvings can be kept forever. However, it's not easy to carve on a very thin surface. It requires precision (精确) and great painting skills.

To spread the traditional culture, Miao began teaching at the school in 2018. She found that the students with hearing problems were good learners of the art, because they were not easily influenced by different sounds. They also had their own understanding.

With the help of other teachers, Miao had little difficulty communicating with her students. "They can read my lips and then think, describe and share their understanding and questions. They get lots of happiness from the process. I will continue to help the students learn the skills and create more beautiful works of art. I hope I can spread the traditional art and culture." she said.

31．Where did Miao teach the skills of porcelain carving?

32．When did Miao decide to learn porcelain carving?

33．Why were the students with hearing problems good learners of art?

34．Did Miao have little or much difficulty communicating with her students?

35．What is Miao's hope according to the passage?

Passage 5

Months later, you will go into a new environment. When you step into a new environment, you must have a strong wish to fit in. Fitting in means making more friends, having more influence on others and getting more chances to live a happier life. Here is some advice that can help you.

Be confident. Confidence attracts most people. Everyone is special and there is only one person like you in this world. Spend some time thinking about your strong points. If so, you will be able to build up confidence step by step. You won't have much difficulty fitting in.

Be kind to everyone. Kindness is the bridge to your own happiness. When people notice your kindness, they will return it one day. Always give more than you receive, and think more of others than of yourself. A person who cares for others is popular everywhere.

Be active in group activities. Various activities like playing football can help you to be known to others. You may add more friends to your circle. At the same time, you'll be amazed to see how much they like you. Instead of being alone to waste time, go out to dance and sing together with others to develop friendship.

Be optimistic. Optimism makes both you and others feel pleased. It makes a good first impression. A pleasant smile costs the least and does the most. Humor catches others' attention as well. People will like you for making them live happily.

If you follow what is mentioned above, you will be accepted by people around you. As a result, you will fit in very well and enjoy your new life.

51. Parents in the UK post about 1,000 photos of their children online from when they are born until their fifth birthday. Babies don't care about this at the time. But there is a difference with 10-to 17-year-olds. Teenagers don't always like parents posting some photos. All babies cry, but teenagers don't want people to see old photos of themselves doing this. Some parents share all kinds of photos of their children, maybe even when they are doing something silly. They do it with good purposes, for example, to share special moments with grandparents. But some middle-aged users of social media don't check their privacy settings and share posts with others by accident.
