2024 湖北专升本统考英语小蓝书预测卷十九

试卷获取方式

Part I　Vocabulary & Structure

1．Who is the girl _____is standing under the tree?

2．Whether the electronic _____(equip) will improve our learning efficiency or not depends on how we use it.

3．The Blue man is determined to preserve students _____being hurt.

4．Mike is complaining about the price of the meat, which has gone _____ by 30% during the Spring Festival.

5．It is meaningful _____(spend) time learning a new language because it broadens your perspective.

6．As we all know, Kate is _____only child in her family.

7．Many species are disappearing at an _____(alarm) rate, urging us to reverse the damage at once and push forward with biodiversity.

8．It was in 1969 _____the American astronaut succeeded in landing on the moon.

9．Blue man decided _____(donate) to the local animal shelter because they do wonderful work for abandoned pets in our community.

10．His innovative ideas have made great _____ (contribute) to the field of energy technology.

11．The doctor, with _____ help the child was saved, is very considerate towards his patients.

12．It is hard for her to be on time. She got stuck _____ the traffic jam again!

13．John lives in a house _____ windows open to the south.

14．It was a long time _____ the door opened in response to his ring.

15．When you're tired or stressed _____, home is here for you to have a rest.

Part II Reading Comprehension

Passage 1

Jim is on holiday in Australia. There are bushfires in the area where he is staying. He is telling his friend Mark about the fires.

Mark: We saw the news about the bushfires. Are they close to you?

Jim: Yes. They are very close. The weather is hot and windy. The conditions are ideal for bushfires and once they get started they spread quickly. Yesterday the temperatures hit 44°C and there were reports of over 50 fires in the area. It will take days to put them out.

Mark: Have you seen any fires?

Jim: Yes, I have. I'm staying with my uncle Ted. He's a volunteer firefighter. He says the fires have killed a lot of animals, but no people. He says that the safest thing is to stay inside unless your house catches fire!

Mark: Is it safe where you are?

Jim: We're fine. We listen to the radio to keep up to date with the latest news. So we know if a fire is coming our way. One got very close yesterday. Three houses nearby caught fire. Luckily, the families put the fires out before they did too much damage.

Mark: Are you worried? Do you think you will need to move to a safer place?

Jim: Bushfires are normal in Australia.They are a fact of life here. It's a bit scary, but I am sure I'll be fine.

Mark: Well, you look after yourself! We don't want you to be the first human victim of the year!

16. Where is Jim on holiday?

_____

17. What's the weather like today?

_____

18. What problems have the fires caused?

_____

19. How do people get the latest news about the bushfires?

_____

20. Why doesn't Jim think he will need to move to a safer place?

_____

Passage 2

Last year I worked in Nepal for three months. During breaks at work, I like to use exercise to relax and reduce stress.When I had a few days off, I decided to go into the jungle (丛林). I asked a Nepalese guide, Kamal Rai to go with me.

We started our trip at six in the morning with two elephants carrying our things. This made it much easier on ourselves. It was hot, but Kamal made me wear shoes and trousers to protect me from snakes. In the jungle there was a lot of wildlife, but we were trying to find tigers. We climbed onto the elephants' backs to see better. However, it is unusual to find tigers in the afternoon because they sleep in the daytime.

Then, in the distance, we saw a tiger, and Kamal told me to be very quiet. We immediately became very quiet. We moved nearer and found a dead deer. This was the tiger's lunch! Suddenly, I started to feel very frightened. I was thinking about a lot of scary stories.

Then a huge tiger jumped out suddenly. It caught Kamal's leg between its teeth, but I managed to pull Kamal away. One of our elephants ran at the tiger and made it go back into the grass, so we quickly ran away to let the tiger eat its lunch. That night it was impossible to sleep! It really was an exciting and scary trip. We were all impressed.

21. Where did the writer want to go during the days off?

_____

22. When did they start their trip?

_____

23. Why did they climb onto the elephants' backs?

_____

24. What did they find when they moved nearer?

_____

25. Who drove the tiger away?

_____

Passage 3

Some people live to climb the highest mountains. Some people live only dreaming about it while others live to avoid ever climbing at all. But one thing is certain — all people meet mountains in their life.

When I was a little girl, my family moved to a tiny town at the bottom of a big mountain.

One day after school, while exploring the green woods of this amazing mountain, I almost fell on a set of stairs. What could these steps lead to? Curiosity got the best of me as I knew it would be starting to get dark soon. I started climbing up those strangely mysterious (神秘的) steps. I climbed and climbed. I had to reach the top. But it was now getting real dark. If I kept going I might not be able to see my way back. My mom would be worried sick if I didn't come home soon. So I ran back home almost in the dark while trying not to get too scared.

Anxiously I went to bed dreaming about what I would find at the top of this magical mountain. Could there be a castle up there? Maybe I would find a monster (怪物) . Or, maybe all I would find was absolutely nothing! But something inside me was going to climb that mountain at all cost. I could hardly wait to try this adventure again.

Now we live in a world surrounded by the "can't do" attitudes. We all fall down. We all have doubts and regrets. Still we must climb and dream about what's at the top of our mountain. Monsters may appear or the night will fall. But never ever give up on your dream! Never let anyone tell you, "You can't." Dream big and climb high!

26. What made the author start to climb up the stairs to the mountain top?

_____

27. Why did the author hurry back home without reaching the top of the mountain? Give one reason.

_____

28. How did the author feel that night?

_____

29. What does the author want to tell us?

_____

30. What's your attitude towards the "mountain" in your life?

_____

Passage 4

Just like everyone, I have experienced ups and downs in my life. I am an aerospace engineer from India. I was told by my relatives, close friends and others that it was hard for a non-IT student to pursue a master's degree in IT and graduate from a US university.

I had never taken courses related to computers or programming. I was never interested in being a programmer, but things changed. I became so captivated by the convenience IT has brought to our life that I made up my mind to chase a master's degree in IT.

At first, I came across too many difficulties and setbacks. Coming from a middle-class family, the huge cost per credit was a big issue. My English accent was terrible. Most importantly, the course seemed impossible at first. Although I felt so discouraged and frustrated, I never thought of giving up.

Then I decided to choose my university because it promised its students to help them learn practically. During my first month, it was difficult to understand the Americans' accent and finish my assignments. But I never gave in. I walked two miles to the university every day so that I could use my travel money to buy a meal. I started looking for jobs and I got an offer to work as a student assistant.

I took all these challenges as my chances, and I believed that hard work was my strength. Right now I am graduating with a GPA of 3.96/4 and a job offer from a multinational company that has asked me to start right after graduation.

When you have a dream to realize, there is nothing that can stop you. All you need is the diligence and persistence. Hard work always pays off. Having a determined will is also necessary.

31. Why did the author's family and friends say that it was hard for him to pursue a master's degree in IT?

_____

32. What does the underlined part "captivated by" in paragraph 2 mean?

_____

33. What is the main idea of paragraph 3?

_____

34. What made the author graduate with a higher GPA and a good job offer?

_____

35. What do you learn from the author's story?

_____

Passage 5

Washington D.C. is the capital of the United States. It's the center of national government. It's a busy, working city with a large population. But what is more, Washington is also a city of history and culture.

Washington was created in 1790, when the Congress (the highest lawmaking body of the U.S.A.) decided to place the nation's new capital in the east of the country. It was built half-way between the northern and southern states of America. And of course it was named after George Washington, the first President of the United States.

There are many tourist sights in Washington. Perhaps the most important tourist sight is the Capital Building. This house is where is the Congress.

Another world-famous building in Washington is the White House. This is the home and office of the President of the United States. Most visitors are, however, surprised by how small the White House actually is.

Washington is also a great culture city. The Library of Congress contains one of the largest library collections in the world. The Smithsonian Museum holds the nation's largest collection of cultural materials. And the John F. Kennedy Center is a famous center of art and culture. It has many great musical. and theatre performances throughout the year.

Now fill in the table with some information about Washington D．C．(注意：每空不要超过 3 个单词)

Washington D．C．

History and location	Created in ____36____when the Congress decided that, and named after ____37____	Lies halfway between ____38____ and southern states of America
A capital city	Center of the ____39____ government
A ____40____ city	The Smithsonian Museum has the nation's largest collection of cultural materials	John F. Kennedy Center is a center famous for art and culture

Part Ⅲ Error Correction

41. My family like the photo where you took in 1998.(　) _____

A　　B　　C　　D

42. I live next door to a couple who children often make a lot of noise.(　) _____

A　　B　　C　　D

43. Whenever you go, you will not forget your own hometown.(　) _____

A　　B　　C　　D

44. He can't forgive him for not seeing his mother before she died.(　　) _____

A　B　　C　　D

45. The games my parents taught me where I was a child turned out to be very useful later

A　　B　　C　　D

in my life.(　　) _____

Part IV　Translation

46. 如果能找到任何适合你的学习方法，你的学习效率就可能明显提高。(whatever)

_____

47. 自从出国留学后，她就不再和我们保持联系了。 (No longer)

_____

48. 我常把王海误认为他的双胞胎弟弟，因为他们长得太像了。(mistake)

_____

49. 易爆化学品被指认为前天发生的骇人事故的罪魁祸首。（blame）

_____

50. 作为一名销售代表，她的工作压力很大。(as)

_____

55. I was very frightened when I woke up in hospital last Thursday. Then my mum told me what happened. She said I fainted in my PE class because of low blood sugar levels. Fortunately, I was rushed to hospital immediately. My experience proves what a bad idea it is to try to lose weight by skipping meals. Now I know this extreme weight-loss method has serious side effects. I also understand that being healthy and energetic is more important than being slim. From now on, I'll pay more attention to my health rather than my weight.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

Part V　Writing

56. 假定你是学生李华，你的英国朋友 Tom 对中国古代四大名著很感兴趣，希望宁给他推荐其中的一部。请你给 Tom 回信，内容包括：

1. 简要介绍一本名著；

2. 说明推荐的理由。

参考词汇：

三国演义 Romance of the Three Kingdoms 水浒传 Water Margin

西游记 Journey to the West 红楼梦 A Dream of Red Mansions

Dear Tom,

Yours,

Li Hua