Part II　Reading Comprehension

Passage 1

Have you heard of the Moser lamp? It is a lamp (灯) that uses no electricity. It was invented by Alfredo Moser, a Brazilian engineer, and it brings light to homes and small businesses in some poor countries.

The Moser lamp is made of a plastic bottle (塑料瓶) filled with water and a little bleach (漂白剂). It is fixed into a round hole in the top of a building, so that the upper part appears in the sun and the lower part hangs down into the room. The sunshine falls on the upper part of the bottle and makes the water produce light, so the bottom of the bottle shines like an electric bulb (灯泡).

Although it doesn't work at night, it is widely used in many very poor and crowded areas. In those areas, houses often have small windows or none at all. Even during the day, the room is dark. So in this way, the light bulb can really help a lot to these people. They can have a better life than they used to do.

Then how did this idea come up? The idea of this lamp came up because of a power cut (停电). That day, Moser and his friends talked about how to live without electricity. They imagined if they were lost in the wild, how could they give the alarm? One suggested using a lens (透镜) to focus the sunshine and start a fire. If they didn't have a lens, they could find a plastic bottle with water. This would act as a lens. This idea came into Moser's head. Almost by accident, he developed the lamp. Thanks to this accident, we now have the great Moser lamp.

16．What does Alfredo Moser do?

He is a(n) _____.

17．What materials are needed to make a Moser lamp?

A plastic bottle, some bleach and _____ are needed.

18．What does Paragraph 2 mainly talk about?

It mainly talks about _____.

19．Why is the Moser lamp widely used in many very poor and crowded areas?

Because rooms there are usually _____ even during the daytime.

20．Which word means "聚焦" in the reading?

It is "_____".

Passage 2

These days, with the rapid development of technology, the ways of celebrating the Spring Festival are very different from before.

Xiao Yao is a college student from China. He loves Spring Festival and often spends it with his closest family members and classmates. He always has lots of traditions to follow during the Spring Festival. These traditions include those that his parents told him, and those he learned as he grew up.

At the start of a new year, Chinese families used to give out lucky money in a red envelope to their children for good luck. It used to be a very popular tradition. However, in recent years, Xiao has taught his family members how to give hongbao through WeChat wallets on their mobile phones. “The hongbao is often grabbed (抢) by group members in only a few seconds. We compete against one another. It’s fun,” said Xiao. “The world is developing as social needs are changing.”

According to a report by China Youth Daily, having parties and going skating are the most popular activities for the young to celebrate the Spring Festival. These newly-born ways of celebrating a traditional festival represent the changes of our society and our lives. While new ideas are appearing, many young people still believe following traditions can make them feel close to the older generation. Li Yu, a college student, said that putting up couplets on the doors and watching the Spring Festival Gala on television with parents have never been missed. More and more people are calling for actions to save and pass on the old traditions.

However, whatever way people choose to spend the new year, what is the most important is still the love to people around ourselves and the good wishes to the upcoming year.

21．Who can get lucky money at the start of a new year?

_____ can get lucky money.

22．How have Xiao’s family members given hongbao in recent years?

They have given hongbao to a group through _____.

23．What are the most popular activities for the young to celebrate the Spring Festival?

_____ are the most popular activities for them.

24．Which English word in the last paragraph means “对联”?

It’s “_____”.

25．How many traditions have Li Yu never missed during the Spring Festival?

He has never missed _____ traditions.

Passage 3

New rules and behavior standards for middle school students came out in March. Middle schools are going to use a new way to decide who the top students are. The best students won’t only have high marks. The following are some of the new rules.

Tell the truth. Have you ever cheated in an exam? Don’t do it again! That’s not something an honest students should do. It is very important to keep honest in tests, because it is where you can find out your weaknesses and try to improve them.

Do more at school. Good students love animals and care for other people. April is Bird-loving month in China. Is your school doing anything to celebrate it? You should join! In that way, you can learn more about animals and how to protect them.

Be open to new ideas. Have you ever thought people could live on the moon? Maybe you'll find another earth in space in the future. Everyone's now ideas are important. If you have some creative ideas, you should pay good attention to them and treasure them, because those ideas can make you stand out among others.

Protect yourself. Has a thief ever taken money from one of your classmates? Don't let it happen to you. If you have to go back home late, you should let your parents know.

Use the Internet carefully. The Internet can be very useful for your study. But some things on the Internet aren't for kids, so try to look at the good web pages. You can use the web pages for fun or homework.

Passage 4

Chang'e-5 has returned from the moon to Earth. The mission's success made China the third country to bring back samples (样本) from the moon. The successful return of Chang'e-5 from the moon to Earth has brought great excitement and pride to many Chinese people. It not only finished the task, but also made great contributions to the country.

Chang'e-5 was China's third mission to land on the moon, and it's first to get samples from the moon. What is amazing is that there were no astronauts on this trip. Scientists ran the mission with robotic machines.

Chang'e-5 was launched (发射) from Wenchang Spacecraft Launch Site on November 24th, 2020. On December 1st, it got to the moon. During the stay on the moon, it got 1,731 grams of lunar samples. On December 3rd, our national flag was shown on the moon. After that, Chang'e-5 was ready to go home. On December 17th, Chang'e-5 landed safely in Inner Mongolia.

Chang'e-5 was the first mission to get samples from the moon in over 40 years. The samples will help scientists better understand the history of the moon and the solar system.

The Chang'e-5 mission has made many Chinese people excited and proud of their country's success. The mission's success shows China's capabilities in space exploration and its commitment (承诺) to advancing scientific knowledge. Passage 5

Dong Yuhui, a 30-year-old livestreaming (直播) host for East Buy (东方甄选), found himself in an online controversy (争议) that began on Dec 5. East Buy said that many of the things Dong said in his livestreams were written by the East Buy team, not by himself. Surprisingly, this controversy made Dong even more popular. In just one week, his Douyin followers (关注者) increased by over 3 million, while East Buy lost more than 2 million followers. And Dong became vice president (副总裁) of New Oriental's cultural and tourism business. Though he has won so much fame, Dong remains humble (谦卑的). "I am not good looking or tall; I don't know why I have so many supporters." he said.

However, Xu Hanze, a famous professor in China, believes that Dong got more attention because of his talent and intelligence (才智), thanks to his habit of reading widely. In the age of consumerism (消费主义), Dong does not trick consumers into buying unnecessary (不必要的) products, but encourages them to be rational (理性的) when shopping online. He also puts more effort into educational activities and events to help farmers. He believes that people should not wish to be the next Dong Yuhui. “I want to tell other young livestreamers that they do not need to be me, as each story is moving in its own way.” He went on to say that people are not products made on manufacturing lines (生产线), and diversity (不同) is what makes people special.
